MY DEAR SIR—Notwithstanding the fact that the informal conference of our delegation, recently heid, at the request of members of the house was agreed to be in mutual confidence, reports of its proceedings were immediately furnished the newspapers, so garbled and colored as to make the impression that the senators arrogated the right to dispose of all the Missouri patronage except as to local offices. So far from making any such claim, I have endeavored to discharge only the duties in regard to patronage which my position absolutely enjoins, and I stated to the conference that the only request I made was that our colleagues of the house would not go back to their homes and tell every disappointed applicant that the senators were alone responsible, but that the truth would be stated that the senators were simply representing the delegation at its resimply representing the delegation at its re-quest, and would do the best they could for all parts of the state. And I do not propose to at-tend any other conference under any circum-stances. I deem it just that all concerned should know that I disclaim any responsibility for anything connected with appointments in Missouri except what result from my own action, and I will not undertake to represent any of my colleagues or the delegation collectively. If any member of the delegation feels an interest in any appointment he must attend to the matter in person and resume the respon-sibility. The proceedings of the conference have been given to the public with such color-ing, and with motives obviously sinister, that I am compeled to act for myself and not for oth ers. I do not know the person who furnished the information to the newspapers, and I am not therefore able to address him alone. My object in this communication is to deal frankly object in this communication is to dear reason, with my colleagues and to protect myself. Very truly, etc.. G. G. VEST.

A St. Joe Mystery.

The finding of a box containing several human bodies in the Missouri river south of St. Joseph created a sensa-

Four of the remains were those of men and two were women, all more or less mutilated, some very slightly, but all badly decomposed. From the examination made by the coroner he is led to believe that the bodies had been subjects in some medical college, and all of them had been partially dissected. There was nothing to show, however, whether they had been cated in some city further up the river. The officers of the Ensworth and Northwestern Medical colleges, of St. Joseph. say that the bodies are not from the dissecting rooms of these institutions. First the victims were thought to be a party of emigrants supposed to White Cloud, Kas.

A Narrow Escape. At Sedalia Wm. White, colored, in the employ of Dr. G. H. Scott, had a narrow escape from death. The incident occurred on the most prominent street and in the thickest business portion of the city in full view of hundreds of pedestrians. White was engaged in breaking a young horse While he was attempting to climb into the saddle the animal became frightened at a passing street-car and commenced running away before White could get his feet into the stirrups. The reins were jerked from his hands and White was thrown under the horse's feet and dragged quite a distance. The rider turned a complete Amersault and did not move a muscle after he struck the paved street. His scalp was badly lacerated and his throat injured by the horse stepping upon it. His body was badly bruised where the horse trampled upon it.

Killed by a Whisky Toddy.

The other morning Mrs. J. T. Albertson, wife of a Houstonia (Pettis county) merchant, prepared a toddy for the family, placing in the glass about two ounces of whisky. While absent from the room Edgar, a 7-yearold son, drank the entire contents of the glass. He was taken suddenly ill and never recovered from the shock, dving in a few hours from the alcoholic poisoning.

A Strange Accident.

Richard C. Woods, general foreman of the Missouri Pacific shops in Sedalia, was walking through the yards when a locomotive ran over and exploded a danger signal torpedo, and a large piece of the metal shell plowed the flesh of the bone of his left leg and lodged under the knee cap, tearing it from its fastenings.

A Terrible Explosion.

The power-house of the Diamond Coa. and Coke Co., 8 miles south of Kansas City, was blown up by the explosion of nine kegs of powder and a quantity of dynamite, ignited by the explosion of a small quantity of gasoline. Three miners were seriously injured.

A Question of Removal.

The influential flock to which Dr.

Samuel J. Niccolis, of St. Louis, has ministered for many years has decided

The executive officers of the Second Presby terian church of St. Louis are negotiating for cupied by the First and Central churches and in a line therewith. The present historic property of the Second Prestyterian church at the

and Lucas place will not be re-to joining the western exodus that in the last ten years has carried a dozen or more congre gations beyond Jefferson avenue. It is under stood that the hostility of a few wealthy Pres byterians, whose funds have aided materially in maintaining the church and its numerous missionary beneficiaries alone has prevented a change of site years ago. Not so very far back a project to tear down and transplant the imposing church home, which is now the Presby-terian down-town headquarters, was discussed.

It was before Henry Shaw's roansion was dis mantled, and brick by brick and board by board rebuilt in Tower Grove park, and it was looked upon as not feasible. It is now thought that if a unanimity of sentiment can be secured in no other way, this compromise will be accepted. At any rate, the removal will take place and at an early date. The present premises have enhanced thousands of dollars in the last year or two to the manufacturing importance which Lucas place has assumed since the new union depot was begun, and the financial question is therefore no hindrance.

Great Devastation in the Mi struck Tunica, the county seat of Tunica county. Nearly every building in the place was wrecked. The new courthouse went down before the wind's fury. The colored school building was wrecked and over thirty chiliren maimed. As the cyclone left Tunica it divided into two sections, one portion traveling in a northerly direction, while the other took a north-northwesterly course, and again crossed the Mississippi river into Arkansas, where it spread ruin through three counties. The towns of Crawfordsville and

Vincent were nearly wiped off the face of the earth, and the storm then took a northeasterly course, reaching Kelly, Miss., about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Here the greatest damage was done. Six people were killed outright and scores wounded. Not a building was left standing, the fragments being strewn over the country for miles. The damage to property in the vicinity of Kelly will reach $150,000. After leaving Kelly the cyclone sed into Ten nessee, the next place to fall in its path being Spring Creek, a small town in Madison county, where several people were injured, but no one was killed. There has been no confirmation here

BEDFORD, Ind., March 25 .- The severest wind and rainstorm that ever struck this city swept over it from the southwest at 8 o'clock Thursday night, leaving ruin in its wake. Buildings were unroofed, out-buildings were torn down and trees uprooted. Several new brick buildings rocked like cradles, frightening the inmates so badly that they ran pell-mell into the streets. Several cows and horses were killed or injured in East Bedford. 'The loss is estimated at $20,000.

The report from Alexandria is that the tornado struck that city about 9:30, damaging residences, business houses and destroying the Lippencott glass factory. The wind struck at the south end, crushing it down upon the machinery and employes. The damage will reach $50,000 to this factory alone. John Angle, Jr., was instantly killed. Frank McShaffery, Peter Hanlan, Ernest Frey, James Branham and some others whose names have not yet been carned were very seriously injured. Three hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment until the factory can be rebuilt. Some of the injured men remained in the debris from the time of the storm until 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

Much Damage, But No Lives Lost at

Bowling Green, Ky., March 25 .-The cyclone which passed over this city Thursday night at 8 o'clock did great damage to property, but no lives were lost. A negro employe of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, Jim Wallace, was hurt, his leg being broken. The Louisville & Nashville coundhouse was completely demolished. out luckily all the men in it escaped. There were twelve engines and two tenders in it at the time, and it cannot be told how much they are damaged until the debris is removed. General Manager Metcalfe is here attending to cleaning away the wreck. The loss to the Louisville & Nashville company on the buildding and locomotives is estimated all the way from $75,000 to $100,000. The roofs were blown off about twenty buildings, including the courthouse. The damage is about Almost Entirely Destroyed the Town. STANFORD, Ky., March 25 .- A terrible eyclone swooped down on the suburban town of Rowland Thursday night at 11 o'clock and almost entirely destroyed it. The post office building was swept entirely away, together with all the mail, some of which was found two miles off. Except the foundation there is no sign that a house ever stood on its site. The storehouse occupied by S. N. Stevens & Knox was also demolished. Isaac Hamilton lost several tenement houses and storerooms, and Every house in Stanford was more or reached over 1.000,000 barrels, the larg- less damaged.
